THE VICIOUS AND VENAL.

The columns of the Democratic press in Virginia are now teeming with declarations that in the treatment of the suffrage ques. tion the chief aim should be to get rid of the victous and venal voters. We agree | 25 cents. with the Democratic press in that particular, but differ with them as to who should be affected by it.

There seems to be an impression with the Democratic papers, generally, that the victous and venal voters are mostly found in the ranks of the poor and uneducated well-to-do and educated classes.
